

How to Establish E-mail Notifications for the Clean Air Act Permit Docket for Clearwater Port

- 1) Go to <http://www.epa.gov/region09/liq-natl-gas/index.html> and open the docket for the Clearwater Port air permit by clicking on the link for docket EPA-R09-OAR-2007-0948.

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window. The address bar displays <http://intranet.epa.gov/testreg9/liq-natl-gas/index.html>. The page title is "Liquified Natural Gas Port Projects in Region 9". The main heading is "Clearwater Port Project". To the left is the NorthernStar Natural Gas logo with the tagline "The Nation's Clean, Safe Energy Solution". The text describes the project: Clearwater Port LLC is proposing to construct Clearwater Port, an offshore liquefied natural gas (LNG) receiving terminal and regasification facility located approximately 12.6 statute miles off the coast of the City of Oxnard in Ventura County, California. The proposed project includes installation of a mooring facility, the conversion of an existing oil and gas platform (Platform Grace) into a regasification facility, and installation of a new 36-inch diameter steel subsea pipeline to bring the gas to shore at a landfall location adjacent to the Reliant Energy Mandalay Power Generating Station. The pipeline will then tie into existing Southern California Gas Company (SCGC) pipeline infrastructure. An image shows an offshore platform connected to a subsea pipeline. Below the text, it states: "The LNG receiving terminal will receive LNG from ocean-going carriers. The facility has been designed for average natural gas flow rates of approximately 1.2 billion cubic feet (bcf) per day with a peak send out rate of 1.4 bcf per day." Under the heading "Docket for Air Permit Application:", it says "EPA Docket: EPA-R09-OAR-2007-0948". At the bottom, it says "Please contact Joe Lapka (lapka.joseph@epa.gov, (415) 947-4226) for further information regarding this project."
